Can't be at RainDance in person? Not to Worry.
Be there in name and expertise with our Value Add Sponsorship.

Value Add Sponsor – ($750)

RainDance's Value Add Sponsors are virtual sponsors who provide materials to be distributed at the conference. Materials must be resources and tools that help attendees better address issues they face in law firms. The content can be in the form of articles, templates, research, case studies, white papers, blog reprints, checklists, and so on.

Your logo will be displayed throughout the conference and your content will be part of our RainDance Toolkit 2019, which will be distributed to each in-house professional.

Who Attends LSSO's RainDance?

Legal Sales and Service Organization (LSSO) is the go-to organization for education, ideas and networking focused solely on legal sales and client service. Now in its 15th year, the annual RainDance Conference is the key resource for law firm sales and service professionals. The two-day conference is filled with high-level interactive sessions, roundtables and lively discussions with industry thought leaders.

RainDance is for law firm leaders who have significant responsibilities for client retention, client growth, new business development, client service, and process improvement strategies to shape the future of their firms.

The RainDance Conference is recognized and known for attracting the highest caliber of attendees who are often regarded as the thought leaders in their firms and those who help shape the industry.
